INTRODUCTION

“THE ESSENCE OF THE FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES OF LAW IS EQUALITY BEFORE THE LAW, THE RIGHT TO COUNSEL AND THE RIGHT TO FAIR TRIAL. THIS IS ACHIEVED THROUGH ACCESS TO LEGAL AID FOR ALL”

‘Legal Aid’ encompasses a broad range of activities that aim at social advancement by creatively utilizing the instrument of Law. Legal profession, the way it is currently practiced and organized, is primarily concerned with the improvement of the quality of legal services rather than ensuring equitable and even distribution of legal services. That is where the concept of Legal Aid finds its relevance, it strives to make law relevant to the masses that are somehow left out and exist below the visibility line of law in action.

At the Legal Aid Society of Campus Law Centre, University of Delhi (LAS) we want to provide legal aid to those who cannot afford professional legal services and we want to champion those public causes for which support is lacking. For this we have divided the functional areas of LAS into various groups like- Environmental protection, consumer protection, prison reforms, gender sensitization, victims of armed struggle, dramatics, slums, disabled/senior citizen, juvenile justice & child rights, mediation, right to information etc.

LAS has always been a pillar of support for those who require legal assistance. The progress we have achieved in this arena was the result of great work by the law students, the teachers and lawyers who were inspired by the legal aid ideals. Our cherished objectives include work on all the fronts of legal process, i.e., awareness, encouragement and enforcement of law.

VISION

As Robert Ingersoll has rightly said “The hands that help is far better than the lips that pray.” The LAS, with a vision to extend legal aid or support in all manners needed, is dedicated to promoting an inclusive legal system by organizing various activities and programmes pertaining to public welfare. The far-reaching goal of these activities is to extend legal help to the marginalized, disadvantaged, and indigent sections of the society.

LAS’ focus is to accelerate the process of providing a platform to spread consciousness about the requirement of legal aid by the indigent litigants. This process involves engaging the student volunteers in organizing of various legal awareness drives, legal aid camps, campaigns, seminars, etc. Also, through these activities the society intends to make the residents of Delhi aware about their legal rights and duties.

The society in order to achieve the goal of establishment of an inclusive legal system facilitates the working of the LSC which functions under the aegis of Delhi State Legal Services Authority (‘DSLISA’). The function of LSC is to impart legal aid to the indigent litigants in the procedure of court proceedings and in any additional process for the same. The volunteers of LAS also assist the lawyer and the litigants during the meetings in the LSC.

One such community which is capable of bringing a change in the society is the student community. Therefore, the society is devoted in grooming the student members of the society to become responsible legal practitioners or officers that will be acquainted with the ground realities of the country and will work towards the upliftment of the disadvantaged sections of society by imparting all kind of legal services required by them.

We are open to ideas, and we believe that we can learn from the experience of those who are engaged in similar activities. For that we are keen to enter into collaborations with NGOs and governmental organizations. Our key strength, in this regard, is a large body of students who are talented and equally committed.

We do have a dream, a dream to create a society where none is deprived of legal rights.

LEGAL SERVICES CLINIC

The Legal Services Clinic ('LSC') of Campus Law Centre, University of Delhi was inaugurated on the 27th of September 2014 by Hon'ble Mr. Justice A.K. Sikri (an eminent jurist and former judge of the Supreme Court of India). The activities of the clinic are aimed at organising legal awareness programmes and to facilitate accessibility of legal relief and free legal aid to the marginalised sections of the society in consonance with the provisions of the Legal Services Authorities Act, 1987 (LSA Act).

The sole objective of the clinic is to bridge the gap that exists between what the law promises to offer and the harsh realities of the legal world. It is medium for the students to avail the opportunity of not only applying their legal aptitude and judicial mind but also exposes them to the practicalities of the profession.

The LSC works in a close collaboration with DSLSA and is opened regularly on every Saturday from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. A Legal Aid Counsel, appointed by the DSLSA, visits the clinic. There are always at least two PLVs available to assist the Counsel. This academic session, LSC has been functioning physically and consistently with a view to facilitate as much free legal aid as possible to the ones in need of it.

AWAAZ-THE BLOG

Literature has the power to mould thought, influence people, and affect change. Recognising the importance of the written word, Legal Aid Society of Campus Law Centre in 2019 launched a blog called “Awaaz” to aid the society achieves its goals of making the law accessible to all persons. 'Awaaz' aims at providing the students with an opportunity to explore the legal arena and shape discussions relating to paramount and critical issues pertaining to legal aid. Awaaz intends to fulfil two purposes; it aims to provide a space to young writers to present novel insights to emerging fields of law and legal aid and simultaneously aims to create a learning platform for all the law students.

Law students are limited in their knowledge and experiences given the range of issues that concern those accessing legal aid. Awaaz seeks to be the platform that bridges the gap between the theoretical imagination of a legal issue and its practical implications on ground.

Awaaz exists as the knowledge centre of the Legal Aid Society where students can learn about various relevant and vital legal issues. As a result of this, the platform limits its selection process to accept only topics related to legal aid and other socio-political and legal concerns. The blog is dedicated to presenting itself as a primary source of information for all students, para-legal volunteers, and lawyers interested in learning about emerging and pertinent questions in the field of legal aid.

Awaaz was inaugurated by the Professor-in-Charge of Campus Law Centre, Dr. (Prof) Usha Tandon on 7th November 2019, which was the final day of Para-legal Volunteer training organised for selected students of Campus Law Centre by Delhi State Legal Services Authority. The blog invited submissions in the beginning of the year and since then it has received more than 150 submissions from various law colleges around the country. The topics on which submissions were received ranged from diverse themes including gender, politics, economics, sports, cyber laws, labour laws, criminal law, corporate law and various socio-legal issues like same-sex marriage, marital rape as a form of crime, adultery, mental health care in India, and the interaction of COVID-19 lockdown with the courts, and politico-legal issues like abrogation of Article 370 of the Indian Constitution, Critique on Death Penalty, Russia Ukraine Conflict, Hijab Ban, Question of Consent in Marital Rape and many more.

LEGAL AWARENESS SESSION ON ‘LAWS RELATED TO ACID ATTACK’

The Legal Aid Society, Campus Law Centre (CLC) under the aegis of Central District Legal Services Authority organized a Legal awareness Session on the laws relating to acid attack on February 10 2023 from 2PM to 3 PM in Seminar Hall, CLC. This was part of Project SPARSH organized by CDLSA under the aegis of NALSA and DSLSA. The speaker of the session was Advocate Gurpreet Kaur.

The Session started with the plight of acid attack victims. The damage caused by acid attack is everlasting. The original face never comes back. It not only leaves a physical scar but also a lifelong mental trauma. Recognizing this menace, Justice Verma Committee in its Report made suggestions to include such offences under IPC. Accordingly, the 2013 Amendment inserted Sections 326A and 326 B in IPC, 1860. The speaker drew attention of the students to the life after an acid attack. Over 100 plastic surgeries are required. Each surgery not only incurs pecuniary cost but also is a constant reminder of the unfortunate and inhumane incident.

The speaker also emphasized that most victims of acid attack are female, with the reasons ranging from personal grudges, jealousy, and revenge to refusal and the like.

DSLISA has included compensation for acid attack victims under Delhi Victim Compensation Scheme.

- Part 1 of the scheme provides compensation for partial deformity in the range of Rs 3 lakh to 7 lakhs. However additional compensation can also be claimed under Part 2 of the scheme.
- In case of permanent deformity, the minimum compensation increases to Rs 5 lakh.
- In case of disfigurement, the minimum compensation shoots to Rs 7 lakh
- Generally, the compensation is provided by DSLISA on application by the victim.

However, DSLISA can also take Suo motu cognizance and disburse the payment. The speaker also pointed out that although Section 326A, 326B of IPC are gender neutral, the rules framed by states presume that only women are victims of acid attack. However, NCRB Report points towards increasing cases of male victims of acid attack as well.

NUKKAD NATAK BY NAVMANCH

The fruitful and informative session was followed by a Nukkad Natak by Nyavmanch to spread awareness about acid Attack. The theoretical knowledge gained by students was underscored by the beautiful performance.
