I hereby certify that a hands-on interactive session was conducted for 9th and 10th standard students of Ramajas Senior Secondary School, Number 3, Chandni Chowk, Delhi 110006, on 4th February 2023. This session was organized by the Department of Genetics, University of Delhi South Campus, in collaboration with Wegyanam, Gargi College, University of Delhi, under the theme of "Learning through Innovative Experiments." The activity was based on experiment designed for the International Junior Science Olympiad (IJSO 2021), organized by the Ministry of Education, UAE.

The session served a dual purpose: while undergraduate students gained exposure to organizational and mentoring skills, the school students had the opportunity to carry out experiments hands-on and understand concepts that they usually encounter only in theory. Specifically, the session focused on the concept of blood group typing without the use of blood

Approximately 8 undergraduate students and 20 school students participated in this workshop, along with teachers from the school.
