Prof Parbati Biswas Department of Chemistry Delhi University

Dear Prof Biswas

Chemical Research Society of India (CRSI) has instituted an annual lecture series in memory of Prof Charusita Chakravarty, one of our outstanding theoretical chemists, who, unfortunately, is no more with us. Her absence has created a great sense of loss among the scientific community in India as well as globally. In her memory, her family initiated by Prof Ram Ramaswamy has proposed to CRSI the lecture series in her name out of a donation made by the family. CRSI thanks Prof Ram Ramaswamy for this initiative.

On behalf of Prof Ramaswamy and CRSI, I have pleasure in inviting you to deliver the first lecture in memory of Prof Charusita Chakravarty at the next CRSI Annual Meeting and National Symposium in Chemistry- 20 (NSC-20) to be held at Guwahati between Feb 3-5, 2017 at Gauhati University. This will be preceded by one day joint symposium on Feb 2, 2017 at the same venue between CRSI and Royal Society of Chemistry (RSC). I also invite you to attend this joint CRSI RSC symposium. Your lecture will be held at NSC-20, either on February 3 or February 4, 2017. We will soon let you know exact itinerary. However, we will accommodate your conveniences.

I hope you will accept our invitation to you to deliver the first Charusita Chakravarty memorial lecture to be held under the auspices of CRSI. Your lecture will be of 30 mins duration, including discussion time.

Prof Prodeep Phukan of Gauhati University is our local host and convener of the symposium. The mail is copied to him as well as Prof Mugesh, Secretary General, CRSI.

Though we are not in a position to reimburse your travel, CRSI and local organizers will be happy to provide full local hospitality and local transportation. The lecture award will consist of a token honorarium, out of the donation, and a certificate.

Kindly send your itinerary to Prof Phukan for all arrangements.

Best wishes

Professor Rama Kant Department of Chemistry University of Delhi Delhi 110 007

Dear Professor Kant:

I have great pleasure in letting you know that you have been elected a Fellow of the Indian Academy of Sciences. Please accept my warmest congratulations!

One of the main activities of the Academy is the publication of scientific journals. Currently, the Academy publishes 10 journals on different subjects. Please visit our website www.ias.ac.in for more details about the journals.

The Academy also organizes discussion meetings on important topics of scientific interest. These meetings include short symposia and invited lectures, some from the Fellows of the Academy. The Academy organizes two meetings every year; a mid-year meeting of Fellows in July, usually held in Bangalore, and an annual meeting held around November in different parts of the country. Please attend these meetings as they provide great opportunities to meet Fellows of all disciplines, invited teachers, and others.

In order to encourage talented young scientists, the Academy has a programme of selecting a few outstanding among them as Associates each year.

The Academy also has an extensive and active science education programme, in which the Fellowship and the scientific community of the country play an important role. This involves offering short-term research project experience to postgraduate (and occasionally graduate level) students, as well as science teachers, in laboratories. I particularly invite your active support and participation in this area, currently being jointly sponsored by this Academy, Indian National Science Academy (New Delhi) and The National Academy of Sciences, India (Allahabad).

A copy of the 2014 Year Book is being sent to you along with a form listing the obligations and responsibilities of Fellows. Please return the form duly completed along with your fellowship dues.

I look forward to meeting you at the next mid-year meeting, if not earlier, and seek your assistance in promoting the Academy's programmes, in particular through your contribution to the journals and participation in the Academy meetings and science education programmes.

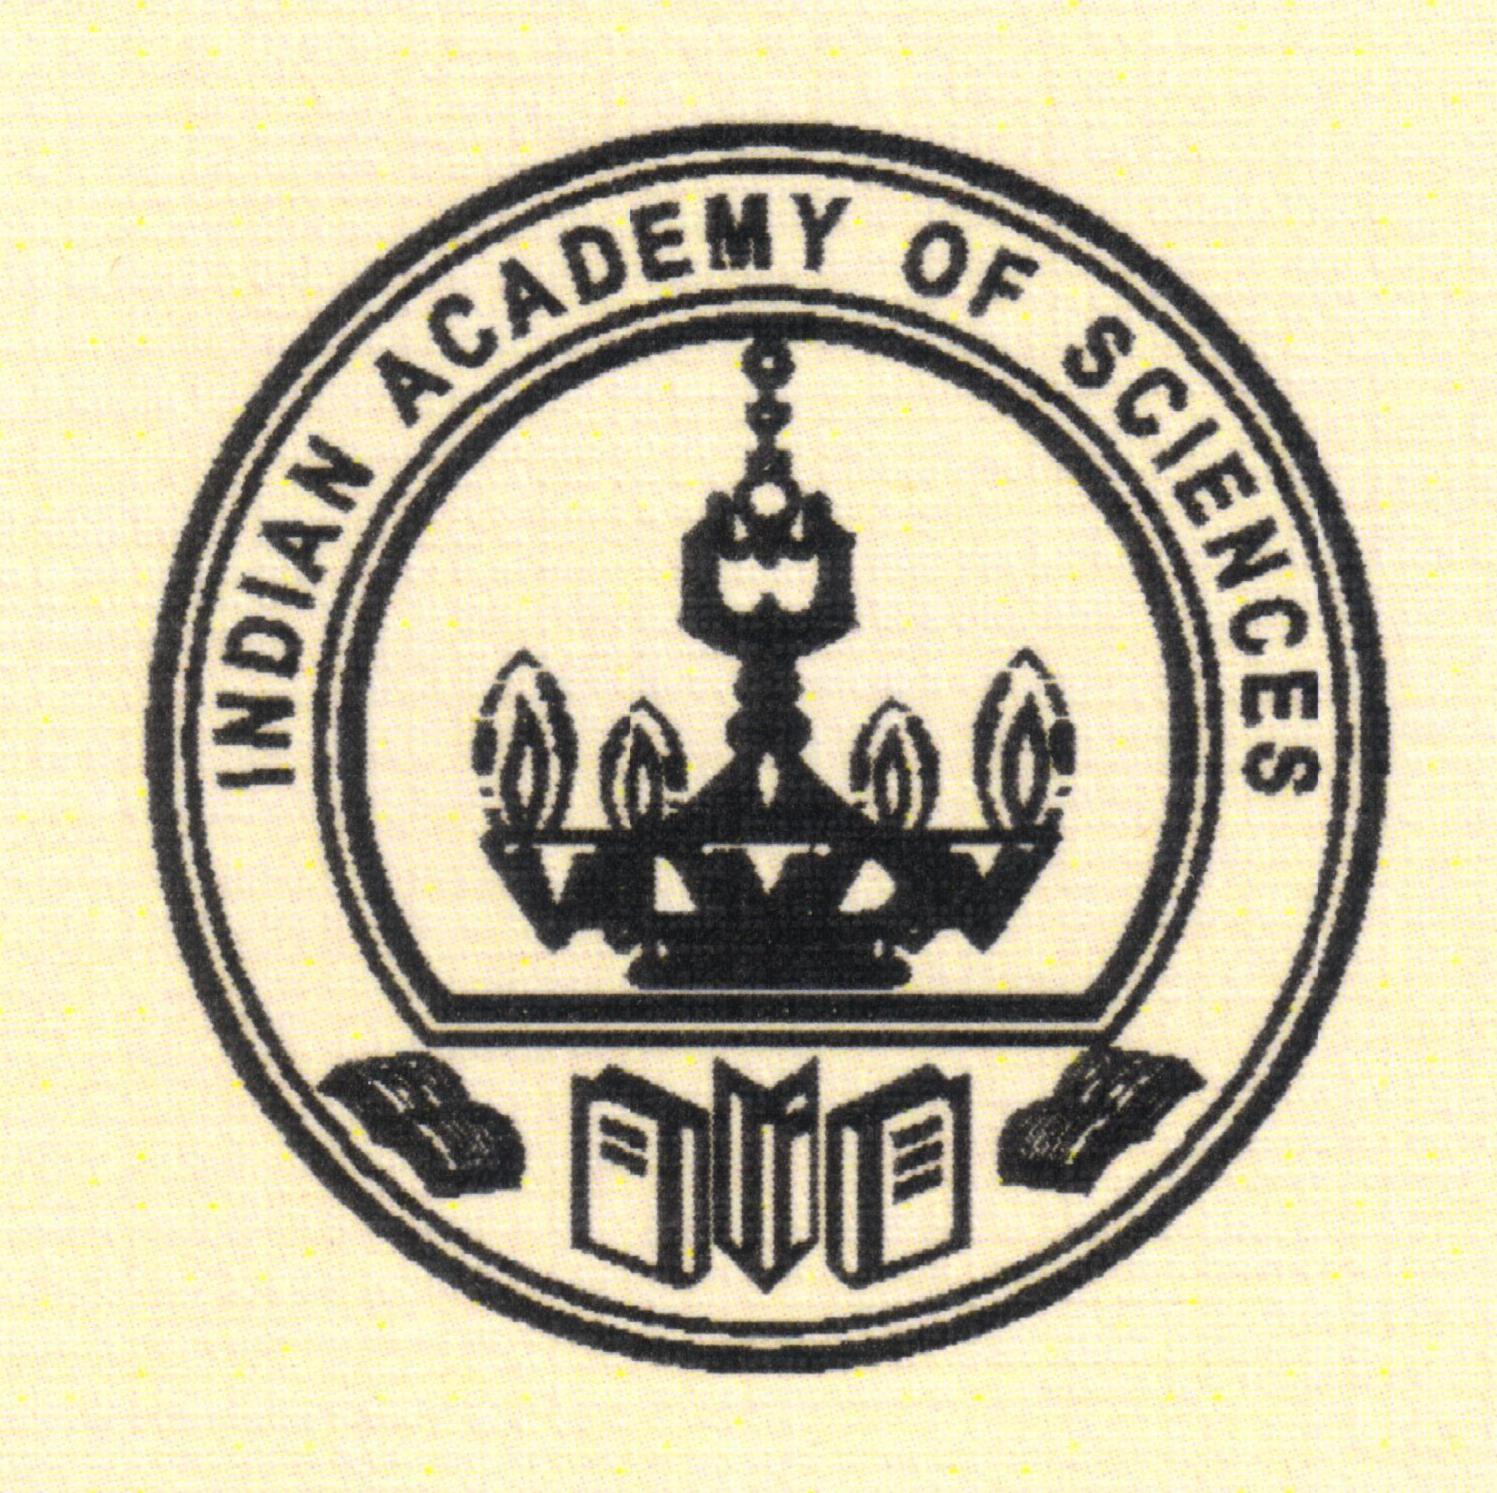

Please send an acknowledgement note on receipt of this letter.

With my best wishes for a very happy New Year 2015, and warm personal regards,

Yours sincerely,

Dipankar Chatteri
