DATUM 14.04.2016

Dear Dr. Jyoti Sabharwal,

within the framework of the program of the German Academic Exchange Service "German Institute Partnership" and on behalf of the Faculty of Philosophy and Humanities you are kindly invited to visit Bergische Universität Wuppertal for the period of July 07, 2016 to July 31, 2016 to meet with colleagues at the above mentioned Department.

For any additional information please contact Professor Dr. Ursula Kocher of the Faculty of Humanities, 42097 Wuppertal, Email: kocher@uni-wuppertal.de who will be your academic contact person.

Bergische Universität Wuppertal is offering you an amount of 1246,00 € for accommodation and living expenses as well as 525,00 € to cover your travel costs.
While in Wuppertal, please turn to our International Office, Gaußstr. 20, 42119 Wuppertal, in order to settle the financial matters (opening hours: Monday – Friday 8:30-12:00 and by personal appointment, building O, floor 06).

Please note that a visa as well as an insurance policy are needed and arrangements should be made well in advance.

Kindly confirm the acceptance of this invitation at your earliest convenience.

We're looking forward to welcome you as our guest in Wuppertal.

Sincerely,

Prof. Dr. Ursula Kocher

to India.

The German Academic Exchange Service congratulates the University of Delhi

on its successful exchange project with the

Freie Universität Berlin

which has been selected for funding by DAAD within the initiative

"A New Passage to India"

for the period of 2009 to 2011.

Prof. Dr. Stefan Hormuth

President of the German Academic Exchange Service

Please note that any financial support by DAAD within this programme is handled through the German partner university.

SPONSORED BY THE

Federal Ministry of Education and Research

More academic exchange between India and Germany – this is the driving concept behind the initiative "A New Passage to India". Building on the existing links between German and Indian universities and research institutions, students and researchers will be funded for stays at the partner institutions under the programme "Study and Research Stays within Academic Co-operations".

Dear Vijaya Venkataraman,

The Indian Women's Press Corps takes great pleasure in informing you that your short story titled "A Time for Reckoning" has won the Third Prize in the IWPC's Short Story Competition. Our heartiest congratulations!

We would be organising an event where the prizes for the short story competition would be given out and will be informing you of the date of the function in due course.

Meanwhile, we will appreciate if you could send your photograph and a soft copy of your short story so that we can put it up on the IWPC website.

With best wishes,

Saroj Nagi
(President-IWPC)

Shubha Singh
(Convenor Books and Library Committee)
